WILSON STAYS #1 IN FEDEX POINTS RACE

Mark Wilson has been #1 in FedExCup points since early in the season and he remains the only PGA Tour player with two wins. With three top 10s and nine cuts made in 11 starts, Wilson's consistency has earned him nearly $2.5 million, good for second on the Tour money list. For the first time he is qualified to play in all four majors.

Westwood returns to #1 with three-shot win on Asian Tour

Lee Westwood won the Indonesian Masters on Sunday at Royale Jakarta Golf Club, and a few hours later it became official: He once again is the world's #1 ranked player, a position he held for 17 weeks from November Westwood was T1 in GIR for the week, hitting 82%, including 17 of 18 on Sunday.

through February. The Englishman's 33rd career win came on his 38th birthday. "I made more putts this week and that's why I finished 19 under par," he said. "This will definitely be the most memorable birthday for me."
